THE SITUATION IN WHEELING

THE BELEAGUERING MINERS ARE GREATLY REINFORCED.

The Riverside Mines Idle--A Demonstration to be Made Against Elm Grove.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 12.—This morning another invasion of miners from the Ohio side was made upon the local mines. Three hundred miners from Wheeling Creek and Martin passed through this city. It is reported that there are a hundred more from Maynard who will follow later. It is expected that their presence will have considerable effect on the Riverside miners, but Secretary Lewis stated that no march would come off today, as no answer had yet been received from Ratchford.

It is learned that the march across the river to Wheeling was without endorsement of the miners' officials.

None of the Riverside men reported for work this morning, but the management announces that the mine will resume work so soon as the Ohio men leave.

Visitors may make demonstrations against Elm Grove today, as a small force of miners is working there.

GOLLI WILL BE TRIED.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, Aug. 12.—Michele Angine Golli, the assassin of Premier Canovas, will be tried for murder here on Saturday. His attitude of cool defiance remains unchanged.

Owing to the objection of Senora Canovas, the admission of visitors to the Chapelle Ardente, where the body Canovas is lying in state, has been stopped and no more visitors will be allowed to view the remains.

Senora Canovas will be made a grandee of the first-class and a pension of six thousand dollars per annum will be settled upon her by the government, in recognition of the great services of her illustrious husband.

Populists Break Heads.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 12.—In the Populist convention here the anti-fusionists secured control of everything. A free fight was precipitated by a fusion asserting that the middle-of-the-roads were working in the interest of Mark Hanna; chairs were broken and the police had to be called to quell the disturbance and separate the fighting delegates. A straight ticket will be named.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The long expected strike of cloak makers began this morning, 550 men quitting their machines in two manufactories alone. Other strikers will undoubtedly follow in other manufactories of the city in quick succession, and it is expected that soon 12,000 men will be out against the starvation wages they have been receiving.

Paper Mills go up in Smoke.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

MANCHESTER, Conn., Aug. 12.—The Peter Adams Paper Mills burned this morning. This was one of the oldest paper mills in the State. The loss is fifty thousand dollars.

INJUNCTION TO STARVE STRIKERS.

Butchers Stopped From Selling Meat to Miners.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 12.—A wider sweep was given to the power of injunction at Burnola yesterday than was ever before known in the history of this country. The judge enjoined butchers from selling meat to the strikers, for the purpose of starving them into submission.

AFTER THE FUGITIVE DOLLAR.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Wheat continued its upward climb toward the dollar mark today on produce exchange. September and December options established new and high records for the season.

At noon September options sold at 89½, and December options at 88½. Liverpool and Paris also show remarkable advances.

Half a dozen men at headquarters of the dry goods trade in this city today say that certain prosperity has come at last, and the reason of their faith in the return of good times was that from the first of the current month till this morning, eleven days, the whole-sale dry goods trade has been stronger than it was in the same period in former years. It is necessary to go back to August, 1892, last great boom year, to find anything like the present volume of trade. 1892 was the best year on record of equal importance with this month's activity in the dry goods trade.

Klondykers are Returning.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

SEATTLE, Aug. 12.—Many of the gold seekers who have been in the rush for the Klondyke section are returning home for the winter on account of the blockade at Dyea and Skagway passes. They report that there will be great suffering there during the ensuing winter. It will be impossible for all those now in the valley to reach the gold regions before winter.

AFTER THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK. Tired of the Sultan's Saddle--Form of Government Must Change.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 12.—A placard printed in Turkish characters was found posted on the walls of all the ministries this morning. The placard demands that the system of government in the Turkish Empire be changed and threatens violence unless this is speedily effected. It further declares that unless this is done blood will flow as during the Armenian massacres.

Minister of War, Riza Pasha, has sent the circular to all the Turkish commanders with instructions directing them to keep the strictest watch upon their officers.

This step is attributed to the increasing discontent visible in Turkey against the present form of government.

Woodford Goes to Madrid.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—General Woodford, new United States Minister to Spain, started for Paris this morning with his staff on the way to Madrid.

THE CHILD PREACHER.

A Girl Only Eleven Years Old Preaches With Power.

Many of our people have doubtless read of a colored girl only eleven years old who has been conducting religious services in various Southern cities, preaching with wonderful power. Some time ago she was in Wilmington, and the papers of that city gave long accounts of her pulpit oratory and power.

Claretta Nora Avery is the name of this child evangelist, and although she has never attended school a day in her life, it is said that her language is faultless. It is a strange power the girl has and can but be divine, for no person could preach as she is said to preach without divine power.

This wonderful child preacher is now in Greensboro, preaching nightly at Bethel colored Baptist church on Maple street.

Rev. P. J. Jeffreys is the pastor of this church, and he tells THE TELEGRAM that the reports of the child's wonderful power are not exaggerated. He extends an invitation to any white people who may wish to hear the girl to attend Bethel church. Special seats will be provided for them. The doors of the church open at 8 o'clock.

DR. McIVER INTERVIEWED.

Local Taxation the Only Way--No Doubt About the Ultimate Outcome.

Notwithstanding the general apathy and the failure of those whom the people are accustomed to follow, to take an open and active stand for the measure, it appears that a few townships in the State have carried the election for schools.

There is no reason why the few who have made a fight for the principle of local taxation should be discouraged. It has taken twenty years to secure the adoption of the principle in Asheville, Shelby, Statesville, Salisbury, Charlotte, High Point, Asheville, Greensboro, Winston, Reidsville, Durham, Raleigh, Goldsboro, Clinton, Wilson and Washington. Most of these places voted twice, or oftener, upon the subject, but there is no disposition in any of them to repeal the tax after a fair trial.

No man who knows these facts could have expected a very large number of townships in the country to vote this tax at the first election. It is only a question of time when every township in the State will adopt the principle of local taxation.

This election will show where there is any strength at all for the movement and its friends will know better at the next election, where to concentrate their efforts.

All intelligent people know that without going beyond the constitutional limit of 66½ cents on a hundred dollars' valuation of property, about 23 cents of which is needed for the State and 23 cents for the counties, no efficient school system can be maintained. The only way to go beyond the constitutional limit is by a vote of the people. The towns and cities of the State have learned this lesson and are profiting by it. The contagion will spread gradually. There is no doubt about the ultimate result.

The cause of public education never gets weaker by agitation. Let us keep the following facts before the people:

1. No people in this country have yet been able to educate themselves except through a public school system supported by a local school tax in addition to their State school tax.

2. North Carolina has less local tax for schools than the Northern, Eastern, Western, or other Southern States.

3. That North Carolina has the shortest public school term in the United States.

4. That North Carolina employs the cheapest teachers in the United States.

5. That North Carolina has a larger percentage of illiterate native white people than any other State or Territory in the United States except New Mexico.

6. That North Carolina has 40,000 more native whites who cannot read than the following eight others of the thirteen original States: New York, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware and Maryland.

7. That while these facts, which are well known everywhere except in North Carolina, may not disturb the illiterate people of the State, yet they ought to arouse the educated people of the State to do something to remedy our condition.

I do not wish to impugn the motives of any who saw fit to disagree with the advocates of the local tax in this election. But certainly the intelligent people of North Carolina will not be satisfied for us to remain in our present condition.

Let those who oppose the only plan suggested, submit their plans for improving the schools.

The Crocail Club.

We acknowledge the receipt of a card to the August Hop of this club at Bogart Hall tomorrow night, the hours being from 9 to 1.

The Crocail is composed mostly of the younger set and it is purely social in its purposes. We learn that the club is negotiating for handsome rooms which it hopes to secure at an early day. Officers for the ensuing year were recently elected as follows: President, William D. McAdoo; Vice-President, J. Dewitte Kase; Secretary, A. H. Staples; Treasurer, T. S. Horry; Ball Manager, R. H. De Butte; German Leader, J. Simpson Schenck. The Crocail will doubtless do much to make life pleasant this season for those who fall within its lines.

Rev. Hay Watson Smith, of Lexington, is here at the family reunion at his father's, Dr. J. Henry Smith. All of the children and grand children are with him.

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

One of the most beautiful and impressive ceremonies that Greensboro has ever witnessed, took place this morning at the residence of Mr. W. W. Allen, on West Smith street, when Dr. J. H. Smith, senior pastor of the First Presbyterian church, joined together for life Miss Gertrude Allen and Mr. W. C. Smith.

Miss Allen is well known in Greensboro, and her gentle and lovely disposition has made her an object of admiration in whatever circle she has moved. She is a daughter of Mr. W. W. Allen, who is the Southern Express Company's route agent in the Piedmont division.

Mr. Smith is a son of Prof. Sam Smith, who teaches Latin at the Graded School in this city. He is instructor of English at the University of North Carolina.

The bride was married with a ring. She was dressed in a coat suit of blue, ready to take the train. The ceremony took place at exactly 7:30 o'clock, in the parlor, beneath a lovely bower of most beautiful flowers. About eighty or ninety friends and relatives were present.

After the marriage ceremony, and congratulations were expressed, breakfast was served, followed by a variety of refreshments. The couple left immediately for Chapel Hill, where they will at once go to housekeeping in their new home.

Among the relatives of the family who were present, were Dr. Samuel Smith, of Columbia; Dr. Harry Smith, of Davidson; Dr. Alphonso Smith, of Baton Rouge; and Rev. M. Watson Smith of Lexington.

There was a most magnificent array of presents, some of which were given by the members of the Southern Express Company; others by the relatives and friends of the bride in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, and others by members and friends of Prof. Smith's family. Among these numerous presents were a very handsome rosewood table, a lovely onyx clock, a beautiful Tiffany cut-glass card receiver, and a dazzling display of gold and silver plate.

THE TELEGRAM joins all Greensboro in congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous life.

THE MICE WILL PLAY.

The report that comes from Washington that forty proof readers—all the Democrats in that department—had been forced to resign is disappointing, to put it mildly. Every man in the country, save the professional pie-hunter, applauded the President's manly declaration in favor of Civil Service. It raised Mr. McKinley more in the estimation of the country than any thing he has done since his induction into office. It was taken as a Declaration of Independence on the part of the President; as an intimation to the men who have been bringing enormous pressure to bear upon him ever since his inauguration, in behalf of hungry constituents, that he would preserve the integrity of the Civil Service and be a President, not a mere dispenser of places. We had almost come to hope that Mr. McKinley would rise above partisanship and rebel against the men who have been attempting to control him, for their own base ends and the Nation's hurt.

These forty Democrats were all under Civil Service, no charge had been or could be brought against them; so this low and underhand method was taken to be rid of them, and leave forty more places vacant for the horde that, like Macbeth, never "Cry hold, enough." They could not be openly dismissed; therefore their salaries are cut to force a resignation. Truly "A way will be found to let the boys into the fire to warm their toes." We do not believe that, whatever his faults, Mr. McKinley would sanction such dirty politics. He should see then that his open declarations to the public are not given the lie by secret scheming of his political henchmen. Mr. McKinley is regarded, even by his political opponents, as being one of the purest men in public life at this time; it is a pity that he should allow others to bring upon his administration the odium of proceedings he would not institute himself.

Mr. Cleveland was by no means an ideal President and left that high office with fewer followers than any man who ever held it; but Mr. Cleveland stood by the Civil Service. It is a part of our governmental policy and, while it is such, each succeeding president is put upon his honor, as it were, to uphold it. It is noteworthy that the party which prated most loudly of honor last fall, is now crawling under the bottom rail of the Civil Service fence.

It is becoming pretty apparent that times are really improving; business is beginning to revive; fresh blood is tingling in the veins of the commercial cadaver. Whether prosperity comes by the gold standard or high tariff, rising wheat or falling silver, restored confidence or gold discovery, it matters not so it comes. We have borne much, suffered much, said much during the times that have been—if McKinley or Dingley or anybody else can bring better times, we shall accept them graciously and let the gift horse keep his mouth closed. But when these men claim credit for the sunshine we will reserve the privilege to call them. Modesty is quite as commendable as liberalism.

POOR old John Sherman! For the period of an ordinary man's life he has been in the public service. He has filled, more than once, places next to the very highest in the nation's gift; but so often as he stretched willing hands after that supreme prize, and it has seemed so near, it has fallen to the lot of another. Time and again he has seen conventions nominate younger men, and inferior men, over his head and elect them to the presidency. Aging with the passing of many years, an old man in a high place, he finds his every act criticised, often by men of his own party, and finally his chief denies him that last pleasure of old age—the privilege of talking. Fortune has favored him often only to mock him in the end. Whatever he may have done, now that, like Dean Swift, he seems "dying at the top," let him have charity.

THE "Sanctified Band" are creating much unpleasantness in the eastern part of the State. The action of the authorities should be prompt in the matter. The vilest wretch that breathes is he who attempts to throw the cloak of religion over his misdeeds and, hiding the heart of a criminal behind the whine of the hypocrite, strives to bring the faith of Christian people into contempt. The law cannot punish the hypocrisy, but it can the gross immorality of this gang. The patience of our people has a limit, and that limit is about reached for these Sanctificationists.

Telegram All Right.

We are in receipt of the following very appreciative note and print it because it comes from a gentleman who was formerly one of Greensboro's leading citizens, and who still holds our city and its interests near to his heart: "THE TELEGRAM is all right. The paper will win. It is a credit to Greensboro and will keep pace with the growth of the city; and more, lead the 'City of Flowers' to greater growth."

The Music of the Trowel.

The site of the old knitting mill, beyond the depot, is being cleared of the fire preparatory to erecting a new building. Already the foundations have been laid and the contracts for material, etc., made.

The property belongs now to Mr. D. D. Huffines, of Fayetteville. The new building is to be of brick, two stories high, one hundred feet long by forty-six feet front. There will be two store rooms below; one of them has already been rented by Mr. Hodgins, who will open up a stock of dry goods in it. N. L. Hanna, the contractor of the building, informs us that the building is to be finished and ready to be occupied by the middle of September.

Dr. McIver at Salem.

The Winston papers speak in the highest terms of Dr. McIver's speech at the Salem Boys School Saturday night. The Journal says there has never been a clearer, stronger or more interesting talk on education delivered in the Twin-City.

Dr. J. W. Griffith went to Winston this morning to act as one of the judges in the colored tournament races there today.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CHATAUQUA

OVER TWO THOUSAND PEOPLE ARE IN ATTENDANCE.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

RED SPRINGS, Aug. 11.—The North Carolina Baptist Chataqua met yesterday in its fifth annual session at this place. There is no meeting of which your correspondent knows, where recreation, pleasure and profit are so happily combined. It is a sort of normal, a summer school for Sunday school workers. Methods of work and duties of officers and teachers are discussed, classes are taught, and the method of teaching freely and fully criticised.

The music is perhaps the best that can be heard at any gathering in the State. There is an orchestra of twenty pieces, and in addition a hundred trained voices. The first session was held last night. The large tabernacle was fairly well filled at the first meeting.

Rev. C. G. Vardell, president of Red Springs Seminary, delivered a very excellent address of welcome, and W. C. Douglas, Esq., of Raleigh, responded in his own happy style. The president, Mr. N. B. Broughton, then delivered his annual address, reviewing the five years' work of the Chataqua, and making some practical suggestions for the future. One of the suggestions was that the Chataqua select a permanent place for holding its annual meetings. He stated that Marion, N. C., had made a proposition to securing it permanently. At the conclusion of the president's address a committee of citizens of Red Springs, headed by Mr. D. P. McEachen, came forward with a very hearty and cordial invitation that Red Springs be selected as the permanent meeting place.

Two or three thousand people will be present today.

Currency Reform.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 10.—H. H. Hanna, chairman of the executive committee appointed by the Monetary conference last January, has called the committee to meet in Chicago. A committee of eleven men will be selected to investigate the currency question and draw up a bill for presentation to the next Congress.

Raised the Price of Cigarettes.

TRENTON, N. J., August 11.—An agreement, signed by all the local retail tobacco dealers, went into effect today, raising the price of 5-cent packages of American Tobacco Company cigarettes to 6 cents, and charging 2 cents extra on all packages amounting to 10 cents or over.

A Missionary Needed.

The excuses made for voting against the local tax to improve the school were various and would be ludicrous except that they are pathetic. One man in Guilford county told Dr. McIver after his speech that "if it was not for this Norman at Greensboro, and this Bingham School at Chapel Hill, and this ding weather report, which we have to support, we could vote the tax for public schools."

THE SOUTHERN EXPOSITION.

CENTENNIAL OF FOUNDATION OF TENNESSEE.

Rich Resources of Arts and Sciences Displayed—The Best Routes to City of Nashville.

The great Exposition, commemorative of the founding of the State of Tennessee, was opened May 1, under the most auspicious circumstances, at Nashville. This Exposition marks a great epoch not only in the history of Tennessee, but of the whole South. It illustrates the wonderful transformation of the South, under the powerful stimulus of manufacturing industries, the consequent improvement of agricultural resources, and the development of railroads. A striking object lesson in practical economies, this display of the garnered fruits of industry shows the effect of the magic touch of capital and energy in the enrichment of the South. It will afford a great practical lesson of priceless value, and prove an excellent stimulus to further effort.

The Tennessee Exposition is one of the finest ever attempted in the South. The situation is most admirable. Nashville, situated in the midst of a charming, fertile country, is one of the most beautiful and progressive cities of the South. The grounds are beautiful by nature, and have been improved by art. The large and handsome building are models of architectural skill, and exhibit a distinctly classic taste. Grouped within, and arranged in an artistic manner, are the richest resources of the earth, in the raw and finished state, costly fabrics, rare works of art, the products of skilful handicraft, wonderful specimens of nature's cabinet, valuable mineral wealth, and curious relics of bygone ages, all of which will afford a delightful and instructive experience to visitors. Great success has attended the Exposition from the outset.

Nashville is a fine old city, exhibiting all the signs of modern improvement, and is rich in historic memories. The grand old State Capitol, a classic model, crowns an eminence overlooking the handsome business houses and palatial homes which grace the city. The homes of two great men, Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk, are still extant. It is a most attractive city of cultured and hospitable people. There are several great educational institutions, of which Vanderbilt University is most prominent.

In order to see the South at its best, when its fertile fields and wonderful forests are resplendent with the beauties of nature, a visit should be made in the summer. Sweeping swiftly along through a country redolent with the sweet aroma of trees, fruits and flowers, the journey is most delightful, and the heat is not at all unpleasant. The Tennessee Centennial affords a good opportunity to see the South in all its glory en route. To the people of the Atlantic or Middle States there are several famous routes, which take in the historic places and noted health resorts. These routes are: From New York or Boston, by rail to Washington, or a sea voyage to Old Point Comfort, Va. Old Point, at Fortress Monroe—overlooking Hampton Roads, scene of the naval battle between the Monitor and the Merrimack, is the prince of watering places, has fine and delicious climate, and grand hotels like the Chamberlin or Hygia. Near by are Newport News, Norfolk, seat of the Navy Yard, and the noted Virginia Beach, which has an excellent club hotel, the Princess Anne. From Norfolk, a pleasant sail may be made up the James River of wonderful memories, to Richmond. From Washington, Richmond and Norfolk, lines of the Southern Railway system converge at Salisbury, N. C., and from thence the route to Nashville is via Asheville and Chattanooga. Asheville, in the "Land of the Sky," the most fascinating all-the-year resorts of the country, is the focal point of the tourists of the wild mountainous regions of North Carolina, in the Blue Ridge system. Around Asheville are the crowning glories of the creation—lofty mountain ranges, grand cathedral-like peaks, rich with pristine forest growth, and at its feet amid the yawning canons, the magnificent French Broad River uniting with the lovely Swannanoa winds its way through a veritable Garden of the Gods. Asheville, a stately little city, perched like a crow's eyrie high up the mountain slope, is the scene of numerous palatial villas, and a score of high class hotels and good boarding houses, and has all modern improvements and good spring water. The climate is superb, being pure, dry and bracing, and is deliciously cool in July or August. A great number of fair days, fine climate and rare scenery are the principal charms of Asheville as a resort. Its greatest hotel is the Battery Park, one of the best and most sumptuously equipped resort hotels in America. Another delightful place near Asheville is Hot Springs, located in a charming gorge in the midst of handsome tree-clad peaks. At this place is a fine hotel, the Mountain Park Hotel, which has excellent facilities for the entertainment of guests, and the administering of the very efficacious waters of the famed thermal springs.

New Asheville is Biltmore, the site of the magnificent Biltmore Castle, erected by Mr. George W. Vanderbilt at a cost of $6,000,000, situated on an eminence in the midst of a park of many thousand acres, on which is an extensive experimental farm. Not far from Biltmore Castle is a fine and famous hotel, the Kenilworth Inn, which is one of the most select and finely kept places in the land.

In the "Land of the Sky," also, are places like Cloudland Hotel, reached from Johnson City, Tenn.; Essoch Inn, Linnville, near Cranberry, N. C., and other noted resorts, at very high altitude, where life is rendered delightful by the pure and salubrious mountain air. At Chattanooga the tourist will observe the battlefields of Chattanooga-Chickamauga, grand Look-out Mountain, scene of the "Battle Above the Clouds," the National Military Park and Cemetery. Returning from Nashville, a good route is via Birmingham, the "City of Iron," the center of mighty blast furnaces; Atlanta or Augusta, the latter the most typical Southern city, where there is a great battery of cotton mills, operated by an extensive system of water works by which the waters of the Savannah River are harnessed.

The Southern Railway is a mighty trunk system ramifying the South, and reaches with its own rails all the great industrial and commercial centers and resorts, including the "Land of the Sky," through which fast Pullman trains are operated. It has a strongly constructed roadway, laid with heavy steel rails, carefully maintained and fully protected by all the modern safety appliances. Its through trains are composed of elegant day coaches, handsome dining cars, palatial Pullman buffet sleepers and observation cars; its equipment is luxurious, its service admirable, and its schedules are fast and reliable. This is the great through vestibuled route from New York, Chicago and leading Northern points, to all southern points, including the famous health resorts of the "Land of the Sky." It offers the best inducements, the most liberal rates and generous treatment to patrons. For interesting and instructive literature, finely illustrated and descriptive of the South and its resorts, or the Tennessee Centennial Exposition, application should be made to W. A. Turk, General Passenger Agent, Southern Railway, Washington, D. C.

WAY OF ESCAPE PROVIDED.

MR. LEE'S ABLE DISCOURSE LAST NIGHT ON TEMPTATION.

God Will Not Tempt a Man Above That Which he is Able to Bear--Morse Affair.

Mr. Lee prefaced his sermon last night with a few remarks in reference to the Morse incident, which he declared was not over with yet. He intimated that the authorities are willing to let the matter drop just where it is, but this, Mr. Lee declared, would not be done, saying that Morse desired to be tried and if found guilty suffer the penalty.

Hon. A. M. Scales, the city attorney, has decided that Mr. Morse's preaching on the street was a violation of the law. This being the case, Mr. Morse is a criminal in the eye of the law and should be dealt with as the law requires. Mr. Lee stated that the plan of petitioning the Board of Aldermen to rescind the ordinance had been abandoned, but that Mr. Morse would stand trial and then appeal to the superior court to test the constitutionality of the ordinance. Mr. Lee informs us today that the mayor says he will not hear the case, letting it drop where it is.

The evangelist preached on "Temptation," dividing the subject into three heads: (1) Temptations are Limited; (2) A Way of Escape is Always Provided; (3) Why are We Tempted?

God always tempts us in proportion to our strength. He will never overburden one of His children with a heavier load than we are able to carry. There is great comfort in this thought.

The preacher said that no matter how sorely we are tempted God always provides a way of escape. He used the safety valve to an engine as an illustration, and said if it were possible for man, in his ingenuity, to provide a safety valve for the escaping steam, it is much more possible for God to provide a safety valve, as it were, for the troubles of His children. The eye of God is always on the safety valve of every man's heart and when the temptations of life are about to overwhelm him the Allwise Father opens the valve and provides a way of escape.

The trials and troubles of life are all sent for our good, though we may not see it in that light. Temptations are often the cause of drawing us nearer to God. If it were not for temptations this world might become too attractive and we would forget our religious duties. God sees that we are getting too near to the things of this world, and in order to save us from backsliding plunges us deep under the waters of affliction. There are many today enjoying the blessings of religion who would be without the pale of salvation were it not for some affliction God has seen fit to send upon them.

No matter how great trials we may be called to go through or what severe afflictions may be sent upon us we should remember that the all-seeing eye of God is upon us and that His hand upholdeth us.

LOCAL NEWS.

Greensboro Lodge No. 76, A. F. & A. M., will hold its regular communication tonight.

We call your attention to the advertisement of the Fishplate-Katz-Rankin Co. They have some special bargains to which they call your attention.

An error occurred in S. L. Alderman's advertisement in yesterday's paper. The price per dozen for cabinet photographs for thirty days from August 7th, should have been $2.50 instead of $2.

W. R. Rankin today received a telegram from R. I. Katz, who is in Asheville, stating that Mrs. Katz is threatened with fever, but the physicians think they may be able to break it up or prevent a serious attack.

Workman Brothers will move their furniture store from their present location, East Market street, to the new building being erected by the Protestant Methodist Publishing Company, South Elm street, as soon as the building can be completed.

Farrar & Son showed us today a certificate of membership in the Merchant's Association, of New York, that is rather unique. It is a birds-eye view of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island. The certificate bears the No. 7,104. Membership in this association entitles the holder to the Merchant's reduced railroad rate of one and one-third fare.

Mrs. Estes Sinking.

A telegram received here this morning conveyed the sad intelligence that Mrs. J. P. Estes, of Houston, Va., who has been so extremely ill, is gradually sinking. Two of her sisters, Mrs. W. B. East and Mrs. John B. Graham, left for Houston on the noon train.

Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. Estes' mother, is still with her. J. G. Fowler, her brother, returned home last night.

A NEW INVENTION.

It Demonstrates that Others Have Ingenuity Beside the Yankee.

THE TELEGRAM representative stumbled upon one of the most novel and useful inventions this morning that he has seen in many a day, and yet, like most really serviceable inventions, so simple that the wonder is that somebody did not catch the idea before. The invention is called a "Barrel-swing" and its purpose is to save the grocery man the labor and annoyance, to say nothing of the bumps and lost time, of diving under the counter when he wants sugar or coffee, or any of those dozen and one things that grocery men have been keeping in barrels and diving for from time immemorial. The little device we saw had been put in the grocery department of J. W. Scott & Co., and these gentlemen, who know a good thing when they see it, at once gave an order for a half dozen more.

The barrel swings on a sort of crane, which is not in the way at all, and we saw a three hundred pound barrel swung from under the counter with one finger. The inventor is Mr. J. W. Collins, and the device has been fully patented. If judiciously managed there is money in it for Mr. Collins.

Gone to Winston.

The colored excursion to Winston this morning carried a large crowd up to witness the tournament of the colored firemen's association today.

The average colored citizen can always be caught by an excursion, and this one was no exception to the rule. The crowd was orderly and well behaved.

To Come to Greensboro.

We learn that Mr. O. S. Ball and his brother-in-law, Mr. Fordham, of Winston are thinking of coming to Greensboro and opening a racket store. They have no permanent arrangements, so far, but are thinking favorably of locating here. Come on, gentlemen; you couldn't find a better place, and a warm welcome awaits you.

Congressman White.

Hon. Geo. H. White, the colored member of Congress from the Second North Carolina Congressional District, will address the teachers in attendance upon the Summer School and the friends of education, tonight, in the chapel of the A. & M. College.

The public is respectfully invited to be present on this occasion. The speaking will begin at 8 o'clock.

ADVOCATING GOOD ROADS.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF MISS CARRIE McNAIRY.

Ten to One Against Special School Tax--Local and Personal Dots From High Point.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Aug. 11, '97.

No one who has traveled at all through the county of Mecklenburg has failed to notice and admire the splendid condition of the public roads for miles and miles around the city of Charlotte.

A few weeks ago a commissioner was sent out from Durham to examine roads of Mecklenburg and Wake counties with a view to making like improvements in Durham county.

There is no reason in the world why Guilford county should be behind Durham, Wake or Mecklenburg; and more especially in that it is said that our roads could be macadamized without spending much if any more money than is now being expended on them every year without improving them at all, except for a few days.

This work ought to begin at once and the road between Greensboro and High Point should be the starting point. The advantages of a good macadamized road from this place to Greensboro can hardly be over-estimated. They are now almost like twin cities by reason of their industries and this would be another bond of union between them. Leaving the advantages from a business standpoint, what a boon such a road would be to cyclists and pleasure seekers in general.

I have heard several citizens of both Greensboro and High Point express themselves as being heartily in favor of such an action, and it is to be hoped the county commissioners will take it in hand. There is no use wasting the people's money shoveling sand that the first shower will wash away. Let the county go to making rock roads, that is as cheap as dirt and sticks better.

Jas. Walker and wife returned from Jackson Springs yesterday. Mr. Walker's friends will regret to learn that his condition has not improved much.

Mrs. Dr. Gibson, nee Miss Epsie Coltrane, passed through with her two children yesterday, en route to Randolph county, her old home, to visit friends and relatives. Mrs. Gibson is now a resident of the Lone Star State.

Dr. Long and Miss Majorie Long will leave for Mt. Vernon Springs tomorrow.

The Misses Blair, of Durham, are assisting the ladies of the First Presbyterian church in arranging for a concert Friday night at Jarrell's Hall. More than forty of High Point's most talented young people will take part.

The indications are that it will be largely attended, and all may be assured that the play will be admirably rendered. Ten cents admission will be charged and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society. Recitations and music will be special features of the occasion.

The school election yesterday for High Point township went against the tax by a rushing majority. Only about one vote in ten was cast for the tax.

Revenue Officer John Worth is making the "mountain dew" scarce in this county. He found two barrels of genuine corn in the woods, about a mile and a half from town yesterday. There were about ninety-two gallons in the lot, which were shipped today to Greensboro. Mr. Worth yesterday pulled a still about twelve miles east of Greensboro, near Mt. Hope church. It belonged to Geo. May, and had been in operation only a few days. A fifty gallon copper still and 250 gallons of beer constituted the prize.

Last evening Miss Minnie Smith played hostess in a most charming manner at a reception given in honor of Misses Carrie McNairy, of Greensboro, and Virginia Lambeth, of Thomasville. Those who attended spent a most delightful evening. After the rendition of several musical selections, the company was invited out on the lawn where, beneath Japanese lanterns and a lovely August moon, refreshments were served. Miss McNairy left this morning for home.

At 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss Reich, of Winston, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Farlow, of this place, whom she had been visiting for a short while. Her death was caused by consumption.

Nelson King, of Baltimore, a popular knight of the grip, is in town.

It has been decided to have the Lee meetings in the Anchor warehouse instead of in the tent, as was first contemplated.

Rev. M. L. Kesler left this morning to attend the Sunday School Chautauqua at Red Springs.

Travelers who stop at High Point should read the signs posted on our city fences. Some one will be pulled for a dollar, if you don't look out.

Two cases occupied the mayor's attention yesterday afternoon. One was dismissed and other was let off with a slight fine.

Rev. L. W. Crawford went down the Asheboro road this morning.
